

Hope Township School Press Release

Hope School would like to recognize Mr. Bradley Bartow as our Teacher of the Year, (Governor's Teacher/Educational Professional) for 2013-14.

Mr. Bartow joined our faculty at Hope Township School in September of 2011 serving as our Physical Education teacher. Mr. Bartow is commended for creating a positive learning environment for his students. He is an imaginative and inventive teacher who creates opportunities for his students to actively involve themselves in his class despite their level of athletic ability. His lessons not only focus on sports and games, but also understanding physical fitness, setting goals, strategy, team work and sportsmanship. Students of all fitness levels always comment about how fast the time goes and how much fun they have participating in Physical Education. Mr. Bartow has established an amazing rapport with his students and their families, despite only spending a limited part of his day with each grade level. His generosity with his time to assist with activities outside of the school day and his willingness to offer help to other staff members throughout the day is truly exceptional.

Mr. Bartow is deservedly recognized by the Hope School Community for the Governor's Recognition Program as Teacher of the Year. He is bestowed this award for his dedication, the exceptional instruction he provides, and the positive learning environment he creates for his students. He also has earned the admiration and respect of parents, colleagues, support staff, and administration.
