Mrs. Kristin Patrick

Kristin's sincere desire to see each of her students succeed based on their individual abilities and needs is a true reflection of her persistence and dedication. She has created a culture of kindness and respect as evidenced by her student's interactions with each other in her classroom. She has an amazing rapport with her students and co-workers. Her love of teaching is on display daily.

It takes a passionate and enthusiastic person to be a Multiple Disabilities classroom teacher. She works hand in hand with parents, therapists, administrators, the school nurse and all other teachers. She brings creativity, energy, and excitement to her classroom. Her ability to learn student behavior patterns and apply ABA techniques is to be commended.

Kristin is also very involved in the school community through HEA and PRIDE. She actively adds to educational conversations with her extensive knowledge in teaching students with disabilities and advocating for their specific needs.
